The CILB currently has reciprocal licensing agreements with the following states:

Louisiana - General, Building, and Residential licenses.

North Carolina - General, Building, and Residential licenses.

Mississippi - General, Building, and Residential licenses.

* The NASCLA General Contractors Exam (2009 forward) is accepted by many states and is substantially similar to all Florida Division 1 license trade knowledge exams (GC, BC, RC and related specialties). Applicants can apply for Reciprocity if the current credential was granted by taking the NASCLA exam, but the transcript must be released to CILB.
