

Electrical Contractors Licensing Board Exam Endorsement/Reciprocity List

- At this time the Electrical Contractors' Licensing Board does not have reciprocal licensing agreements with any other state.
- Please see the Endorsement List below for examinations recognized as substantially equivalent to Florida's examination.

State or National Examination	Recognized for Endorsement	Categories that are Recognized for Endorsement	Date of Determination
1. California	YES	CA C-10= FL Unlimited EC CA C-7= FL Limited Energy Specialty CA C-45 = FL ELECTRICAL SIGN SPECIALTY	March 2001 November 2019
2. Colorado	Partial	CO Electrical Contractor Technical Exam= FL Unlimited EC Technical Exam (Applicants must take Florida Business Exam for Licensure)	November 2019
3. Georgia	YES	Georgia Class II Unrestricted with Georgia Low Voltage Unlimited = FL Unlimited EC Georgia Class I = FL Residential Specialty	March 1998 March 2010
4. NASCLA	Partial	NASCLA Residential Electrical Exam = FL Residential Specialty Technical Examination (Applicants must take Florida Business Exam for Licensure)	May 2020
5. Nevada	Partial	NV Management Survey substantially similar to FL Business Exam (Applicants must take Florida Technical Exam for Licensure)	April 2020 Technical Exam was not reviewed
6. North Carolina	YES	NC Unlimited = FL Unlimited EC NC Low Voltage L/V = FL Limited Energy Specialty NC Limited License = FL Residential Specialty	March 1998
7. Oklahoma	Partial	OK Electrical Business Exam is substantially similar to FL Business Exam (Applicants must take Florida Technical Exam for Licensure)	April 2020 Technical Exam was not reviewed
8. South Carolina	Partial	SC Electrical Business Management & Law Exam is substantially similar to FL Business Exam (Applicants must take Florida Technical Exam for Licensure)	April 2020 Technical Exam was not reviewed
9. Texas	Partial	TX Master Electrical Exam = FL Unlimited EC Technical Exam (Applicants must take Florida Business Exam for Licensure)	December 2019

This lists details the states and categories of licensure the Florida Electrical Contractors' Licensing Board currently recognizes as having substantially similar examinations for the purposes of endorsement under 489.511(6)(a), F.S.

If your state of licensure is listed as not recognized for endorsement you can apply for licensure by first taking and passing the Florida examination. Please refer to the endorsement application for for additional information.